Track Meets at Hanover Today

There will be two important track meets under the auspices of Dartmouth college at Hanover, N. H., this afternoon. First in importance will be the interscholastic meet in which nearly 200 entries have been received by Manager G. A. Graves. The speedy Volkman school midget team that established a new relay race record at the recent B. A. A. indoor schools games has been invited to run.
The second meet will be between Dartmouth freshmen and Princeton freshmen, and it should be a close and exciting affair.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

The Comet

Halley's comet will appear for a few more mornings, according to the program announcement, and then conclude its exhibition in the evening.

May 14—Comet rises 2.40 a. m.
May 15—Comet rises 2.49 a. m.
May 16—Comet rises 3.08 a. m.

A slight haziness next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and a slight illumination of the sky next Wednesday evening are the only indications of the passing of the earth through the tail of Halley's comet in which the general public will share, according to the belief of Prof. Robert W. Willson of Harvard, says the Boston Herald. There may be some disturbance of telephone and telegraph service, but this if only a possibility and, even should it occur, it will be so slight that only the expert operator will notice it.

The illumination of next Wednesday night is expected to grow brighter as the night progresses until the greatest brilliance is reached just before dawn Thursday morning. It may continue through Thursday night and possibly later as the comet recedes.

BASE BALL NOTES

Woodstock High school lost the game with Black River academy at Ludlow last Saturday, 5 to 2. The Woodstock boys made some errors on the new and rather rough diamond there, but the game was interesting, the academy students making things as pleasant as they could save allowing them to win, and they came home singing cheerfully. Woodstock expects to make a better showing in the return game here June 3.

The High school plays Randolph High at Randolph today.

Inn Sports Ahead

The Inn Sports and the High school team had a five-inning set to Thursday afternoon, the engagement closing with the I. S. leading—7 to 5.

Pitcher Ruggles of the Sports was in his old-time good form, Prior throwing well for the school team.

For the Sports, H. Mackenzie, Flinn and Buckley made long and influential hits, Mackenzie poling the ball into right field and scoring two men. Wood was the star hitter of the school team.

The I. S. have developed rapidly since the students used the brush on them in the initial game of the season, and will be a serious obstacle to other aspirants for the local championship.

Yale Stock Co. Pleases

The Yale Stock Co. opened a three nights engagement at Music hall Thursday evening with "The Princess of Patches." The house was well filled. The company is unusually capable, and the play was an entertaining mixture of humorous and near-tragic situations. Miss Myrtle Frigone was an attractive "Princess," and also sang and danced well. Peter Murray did most of the comedy work, and his timely entrances saved the day and foiled Mr. Lee Silverthorn, (J. W. Chase) the villain, on no end of occasions. Silverthorn was a bad one. Norman Houston was very well cast as "Col. Silverthorn," an old soldier.

All the specialties were excellent. Peter Murray sang, Jack Merry showed a pair of talented legs in a song and dance turn, while Miss Helen Byron and Frechette and Frigone completed the olio.

The bills for the remaining performances are:—
Friday night, "The Traveling Man"; Saturday matinee, "The Country Girl"; Saturday evening, "Side-tracked."

WOODSTOCK NOTES

An increase in pension has been allowed James M. Sleeper of South Woodstock, at the rate of $15 per month from April 25, 1910.

Joseph Crapo, captain of the Woodstock base ball team last year, was in town Wednesday, on his way to join the North Adams, Mass., semi-professional team. It has a schedule of 67 games and will meet many of the fastest aggregations in Massachusetts and New York. Joe has been coaching the Orleans High school team for the past month.

Capt. E. A. Spear, Lieutenants J. S. Brownell and K. A. Pember attended a meeting of the commissioned officers of the First Regiment, V. N. G., held in Brattleboro Tuesday.

Maj. H. E. Dyer, 1st Bat., 1st Inf. V. N. G., of Rutland, succeeded Lieut.-Col. Lee S. Tillotson, of St. Albans, who recently resigned to take the office of adjutant and inspector general vice Adj. Gen. W. H. Gilmore, deceased. Capt. John W. Tinker of St. Johnsbury, was elected to succeed Major Dyer.

Mrs. H. U. King of Stanford Conn., arrived at the Inn Monday. Mrs. Hugh C. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. F. Blanchard and Miss Alice A. Blanchard of Montpelier were at the Inn a few days this week.

High Mass tomorrow at the Catholic church, will be sung by the Very Rev. A. Prevel, Superior-General of the Society of St. Edmund, whose different insinuations he has been visiting in this country. After spending a few days here as the guest of Rev. Fr. Drouhin, to whom he taught rhetoric in France, 20 years ago, he will sail directly for Europe, to preside over an international council of the order, which is to be held in Paris next month.

A proposed change in the graded school here will do away with the ninth grade, giving the pupils of the eighth an opportunity by examination to enter the High school without an additional year's work. The work in the two grades is very similar, and those not passing such examinations for the High school will take another year in the eighth grade.

Ector P. Gobie is visiting his brother, Dr. W. A. Gobie, in Groton, Mass., a few weeks.

The Choral Union will be assisted in its concert Wednesday evening, May 25, by Mr. John E. Daniels, tenor, of Boston; Dr. Arthur Gould, baritone, of Boston; Mrs. Arthur B. Pinney, soprano; Mrs. Harold Winslow, soprano, and Mrs. Benjamin Swift, contralto, and besides the presentation of Sullivan's beautiful cantata, "The Prodigal Son," Messrs. Daniels and Gould and Mrs. Winslow will be heard in separate selections in the first part of the program. Mr. Daniels and Mr. Gould are pupils of Stephen Townsend in Boston, who highly recommended them for this cantata. The chorus in the cantata will be made up of over 50 voices, assisted by a selected chorus. Tickets may be procured of members of the Choral Union and will be on sale at Morgan's drug store May 21st.

Frank O. Blake has given up his work on the American Express Co.'s delivery team and is succeeded by Earle E. Wyatt.

Robert Maxham, who owns and occupies the Crandall house on Stanton street, has bought of H. H. Vail for $300 three lots adjoining the Crandall place.

There will be no preaching service or Sunday-school at the Christian church tomorrow morning as the pastor will be out of town. The Christian Endeavor will be held as usual.

C. E. Woodruff and H. M. Stevens are building a garage and carriage house in the rear of Mr. Woodruff's barn on Pleasant street. The building is 20x24 feet, with a second story for storage purposes. The garage will take up a little more than half the space below and will have a cement floor.

G. K. Richardson, Miss Richardson and Miss Smith of Boston are at the Inn.

Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Swift are passing a week in Hartford, Conn., and New York city, and Mr. Swift will attend the commencement of Union Seminary in New York. Rev. C. F. Partridge will supply at the Congregational church tomorrow.

Prof. E. H. Williams and Miss Williams are now at Westerdale and the other members of the family are expected this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gillingham are at the Inn for a few weeks, arriving last week Thursday, having passed the winter and spring in Florida and Georgia. The only trophy of his travels Mr. Gillingham is exhibiting is a handsome and effective firearm adaptable to many emergencies. It is a combination piece of German make, having two shotgun barrels and a rifle barrel, and weighs only seven pounds.

Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Moore are in Rutland for a few weeks.

Mrs. Houston and two children of St. Louis, who passed last summer here, are again occupying the Eliakim Johnson house on Elm street.

The audience at Music hall Thursday evening noted with some relief the absence of the two ladders that have for some months stood on the floor of the auditorium, resting against the balcony front. They were supposedly an addition to the fire escape facilities of the house, but the authorities became persuaded that they would be a deadly menace to human life in actual use, and their removal was ordered.

C. L. Dana, Jr., and friend from New York arrived Thursday, and will engage in farming for a few weeks.

Miss Adams, of the High school faculty, fell while playing tennis on the Vail field court a week ago, injuring her hip. She has been out of school this week, Miss Miriam Olmstead of Taftsville taking her place, but expects to return Monday.

Some person or persons conspicuously deficient in the sense of decency and honesty, stole a lot of tulips Wednesday night from the flower bed at the corner of Elm and Pleasant streets, one of the beauty spots maintained by the Woodstock Improvement society. The tulips are grown there to be looked at, and the theft is one of especial meanness.

Channing Williams, formerly of Woodstock, who has been running a music and variety store in Vergennes for several years, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving his liabilities as $359.11, and assets $910, claiming $150 to be exempt.

The Inn is adding a landing stage for carriages and automobiles to its piazza on the South street side. It will run from the corner to the trunk room.

The new stone crusher bought by the village was moved from the station to C. T. Atwood's Hewitt pasture Monday, and it was a pull for a six horse team to land it there. It will not be put in place until an expert from the manufactory arrives. The 30-horse power electric motor will be here in a few days.

The Red Oak (Ia.) Express says of a former resident of Woodstock:

"The members and friends of the Congregational church at Red Oak, Ia., learning that April 27, was the birthday anniversary of their pastor, Rev. George E. Ladd, planned and executed a very happy surprise on him that evening. All unbeknown to him they trooped into his home in strong numbers, laden with baskets and bundles of refreshments. The evening was very enjoyably spent and one of its features was the presentation of a fine, big study chair to Mr. Ladd." The same paper hails as "Red Oak's Child poet" Mr. Ladd's eight-year-old daughter, Carolyn.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Gilman Thomas of Lynn, Mass., and T. A. Hoadley of Boston are expected to arrive here Saturday afternoon.

Gilman Thomas is making quite extensive repairs on his home here. Clarence Perry and Will Rood are doing the work.

C. F. Perry has a New England telephone installed in his house.

Mrs. L. C. Kendall and Mrs. Maria Perry took a carriage drive to West Woodstock on Wednesday of the present week, calling on friends.

Mrs. R. H. Kingsley and Mrs. Maria Perry were guests at James Hoadley's on Thursday.

Mrs. Gilman Wilson is reported better.

Rev. H. L. Canfield will preach at the church Sunday at 2 p. m.
